Late-breaking abstracts

Late-breaking abstracts may be submitted for high quality, new research findings with implications for clinical practice or understanding of disease processes. The work must not have been previously published in any publication in a peer review setting or presented at a meeting of any other scientific organisation prior to ELCC 2019.

Only abstracts for which no conclusive data are available at the time of the abstract submission deadline of 9 January 2019 will be considered for late-breaking status.

The final late-breaking abstract deadline of 5 March 2019 is under no circumstances to be considered as an extension of the general submission deadline.

Late-breaking abstract submission instructions and review process

- A preliminary abstract indicating the type of data that will be available by the late-breaking abstract deadline must be submitted online by 9 January 2019 and the intent to submit a late-breaking abstract check-box must be ticked.
- The abstract must include the title, first author (with full contact details), objectives, methods and anticipated data. Please note that the abstract length must not exceed the standard abstract length of 2,000 characters, excluding spaces. (Please see details in the general abstract submission instructions and regulations).
- The ELCC 2019 Scientific Committee will review all abstracts indicated as late-breaking and first authors will be advised whether the study has been identified as a potential late-breaking abstract.
- Authors receiving a positive outcome of this first review will be required to submit the entire abstract including author string, final results and conclusions plus any table (if applicable) online by the late-breaking abstract deadline 5 March 2019.
- All late-breaking abstract submissions must follow the standard submission regulations and instructions as outlined above.
- The ELCC 2019 Scientific Committee will re-consider the final abstract to determine whether it will be accepted as a late-breaking abstract for ELCC 2019. A decision will be made between the following three options:
 - Accepted for Oral presentation: Oral presentation during a Proffered Paper session
 - Accepted for Mini Oral: Oral presentation during a Mini Oral session
 - Rejected: Late-breaking submitted abstracts that do not meet the criteria for Proffered Paper or Mini Oral presentation will not be accepted and will not be published
- The presenters of accepted late-breaking abstracts will receive notification and further instructions by end March 2019.

- Note: If a preliminary abstract marked for late-breaking submission is not updated by the late-breaking abstract deadline, the entire abstract will be automatically rejected.
- Accepted late-breaking abstracts will be published online only in the ELCC 2019 Abstract book, a supplement to the official ESMO journal Annals of Oncology.

Trial in progress abstracts

Trial in Progress (TiP) abstracts in all phases of clinical research (phases I to III) may be submitted to ELCC 2019.

It is expected that abstracts submitted as Trial in Progress are ongoing trials that have not reached any protocol-specified endpoints for analysis and consequently will only require the completion of two (2) sections:

- Background
- Trial design

Notes:

- Recruitment must have already begun or have been completed by the abstract submission deadline of 9 January 2019.
- Abstracts including results or preliminary data will be rejected.
- Authors of 'encore' TiP abstract submissions must supply information regarding the original presentation, indicating the name of the meeting and publication number. The first author will be responsible for obtaining, and, upon request, showing proof that written permission has been obtained from the copyright holder of the original abstract publication(s).
- Trial in Progress abstracts will be accepted for Poster outcome only.

Abstracts will be reviewed by the ELCC 2019 Scientific Committee and considered on the merits of the scientific and clinical rationale of the trial.

Confidentiality policy

Abstracts submitted to ELCC 2019 are considered confidential by the ELCC 2019 organisers, the author, co-authors and research sponsors until publicly released in connection with ELCC 2019. Prior to public release, the author, co-authors, research sponsors, journalists and others may not:

- Make the information public or provide it to others who can make it public (e.g. press)
- Publish or present the information or provide it to others who can make it public
- Use the information for trading purposes or provide it to others who can use it for trading purposes

The ELCC 2019 organisers reserves the right to provide their press releases a few days before public release to a selected list of journalists who have previously agreed in writing to respect the ELCC embargo policy.

If details or relevant information from the abstract or additional study data are disclosed in advance of public release in connection with ELCC 2019, the abstract will no longer be eligible for inclusion in the ELCC 2019 programme and/or will be subject to removal.

Confidentiality policy exceptions

According to the Confidentiality policy, data and other information in a research abstract is confidential until public release in connection with the ELCC 2019 Congress.

When a publicly traded company is required to disclose data or other information from a confidential abstract in advance of the public release to satisfy requirements of the US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) or a corresponding body in another country, the abstract is still eligible for inclusion in the ELCC 2019 Programme provided that the company submits to the ELCC 2019 organisers (programme@esmo.org) in advance of the release written notification of the requirement to issue information in accordance to SEC regulations.

In the interest of effective peer-reviewed presentation of data at the ELCC 2019, and particularly if the abstract has been tentatively included in the official ELCC 2019 Press programme, the company is required to get in contact with the ELCC Press Office (pressoffice@esmo.org) in advance of the release to notify that a press release regarding an abstract included in the official ELCC 2019 Press programme will have to be issued in accordance to SEC regulations.

The ELCC 2019 organisers recommend that the company's press release adheres to the Qualitative Sample Press Release (provided by the ESMO Press Office) and:

1. Summarizes data cited in the abstract in a qualitative way rather than providing specific quantitative information, including exact figures on the study
2. Avoids interpretations about the implications of the data for clinical practice
3. Notes that full data has been submitted for presentation at ELCC 2019

The ELCC 2019 Press Office will review the company's press release to ensure it adheres to the Qualitative Sample Press Release and evaluate if the abstract can still be included in the official ELCC 2019 Press programme.

If the press release includes significantly more information than the organisers' recommendations, the abstract's placement in ELCC 2019 is subject to change and can be withdrawn from the official ELCC 2019 Press programme.

Copyright

The ELCC 2019 organisers hold copyright of all abstracts accepted for the ELCC 2019 Congress and therefore abstracts cannot be made public prior to official publication.

ELCC 2019 copyright is lifted only if the abstract is not accepted for inclusion in the official ELCC 2019 Congress programme and/or publication in the Congress Abstract Book.

The submission of abstracts accepted for ELCC 2019 to subsequent conferences, organised either by ESMO, IASLC or third-parties, requires the permission of the joint ELCC organizing partners. Requests will be processed by the ELCC Secretariat, c/o programme@esmo.org

Commercial data mining of ELCC 2019 published abstracts requires the permission of the ELCC 2019 organisers and approval must be sought before inception of the project. Queries should be addressed to programme@esmo.org
